

INTEREST ON LOAN MAY BE REDUCED

According to a cablegram received from Secretary Carter by Treasurer Kepoikai yesterday, there would appear to be a possibility of floating the Territorial loan in New York at four per cent. interest. The enabling act of the Legislature allows this, as it makes the interest to be "at a rate not more than five per cent." If the whole loan could be disposed of at 98 with interest at four per cent., it would mean a net gain of $130,000 over disposal at par with five per cent. interest in the fifteen years of maximum life of the bonds. That the four per cents might be sold at par is almost too much to expect. The cablegram from Secretary Carter, as extended officially, is in the following words:

"I have closed up matters with Dillon, whose fee is one thousand dollars. The form of bond has been agreed upon. The engraving has been started. I may advise a change of the rate to four per cent."

Mr. Carter is in New York, where he went last Saturday. His reference to the fee of $1000 connects with the authority he took hence to employ counsel in the business of floating the bonds. It would appear he was successful in retaining the services of Judge Dillon, who was formerly United States Judge in the Iowa Circuit and later professor of real estate and equity in Columbia University law school. Judge Dillon has for many years been one of the leading authorities on corporation and financial law.

It is now doubted in Honolulu that the Secretary of the Treasury has power under the United States statutes to make the Hawaiian bonds security for national bank deposits and circulation.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

A Chinese deposit in the postal savings bank has been discovered by Frank D. Creedon, clerk to the Secretary of the Territory, as having been paid twice and neither time to the depositor, Ang Kim, but to a different assignee on each occasion. Governor Dole has placed the matter in the Attorney General's hands.

The connection of P. M. Pond with the sale of the Hawaiian Iron Fence & Monument Co. was merely that of a notary public in taking an acknowledgment of a bill of sale. Having been on the jury in the Hendrick case Mr. Pond refused to have anything to do with the sale of Mr. Hendrick's business.

The Rapid Transit Co.'s construction work on Fort street is being pushed with great vigor. Rails were laid as far as Merchant street from Queen yesterday and excavation almost completed to King street. At the rate of progress the public will not be inconvenienced by the work on Fort street more than a week.

Henry Dole, a half-white, aged 61 years, died at Waikiki on Tuesday. He was a member of the Honolulu Mutual Burial Association and was buried at 11 a. m. yesterday in Kawaiahaeo cemetery by the Association. The dead man was well known to many people. It is said he was christened by Governor Dole's mother.

There is scarcity of water for household purposes at Waimea, Kauai, while the construction of water works there is delayed along with public improvements all over the Territory. Latterly the situation has been made worse by the finding of the body of a drowned Japanese in the river, which has put the people off taking water from that source.

The executive council refused the application of Hoffschlaeger & Co. for a wholesale liquor license at Waimea, Kauai, on the ground that it was against public policy to legalize the business in such a small district. E. S. Cunha's application for one license to cover the Union saloon and the Union Grill, formerly received adversely, was yesterday referred to the Governor and the Attorney General.

Camp McKinley authorities have a return grievance to play against the civil authorities for the three soldiers who did not come back for trial. When Fisher, Mooney and Buckley were released under a verdict of not guilty directed by Judge Gear from indictment for burglary, they were arrested on military warrants for being absent from duty without leave. Before the guard got away with them, however, they were again arrested by the Territorial police on a fresh charge of burglary.

The child-stealing case in which the Attorney-General entered a nolle prosequi yesterday was originally one of child-selling. Ah Hoy, the Chinese defendant, bought the child from its father, but the mother managed to gain its custody. Then Ah Hoy, with the assistance of Delgado, a Porto Rican, regained possession of the child. Attorney General Andrews had misgivings about proof of intent under the circumstances, but in releasing the defendants induced Judge Gear to warn them against interfering with the mother and child.
